Working Together to Bring Back a Part of Ontario's Natural Heritage

Jason Mortlock

Marion Daniels (MNR)

Credit River Anglers Association

Many conservation-minded individuals and organizations are working together to restore wild populations of Atlantic salmon to Lake Ontario.

As an angler, you can help. Remember that if you catch an Atlantic salmon in any Lake Ontario stream, you must release it, unharmed. If you have a Sport Fishing Licence, you may keep one Atlantic salmon over 63 cm (25 inches) a day, from Lake Ontario. Please note that the Atlantic salmon limit in the lake is zero for holders of a Conservation Fishing Licence.

Atlantic salmon can easily be confused with other salmon and trout. For tips on identification and to learn more about this exciting program, please visit:

A Message From Ontario's Conservation Officers

Be sure that you know the gear restrictions for the body of water you are fishing and comply with these rules. For example the number of lines you may use may vary when angling in open water, through ice, from a boat or from shore.
